U. S. Must Get More Results For Money In Europe, Ike Declares

By PRESTON GROVER

PARIS — (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower said today the United States needs to continue its support of European rearmament—but must get more results for the money.

The General's opinion was stated in his first annual report as commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Defense forces. Americans looking at the report could speculate that he had one eye on the voters who later may be asked to put him in the White House.

Anti-Communist Bill In Senate

LANSING — (AP)—Two dominant bills of the 1952 legislature—the Trucks Communist control bill and a proposal for a constitutional convention—were pushed up for final passage in the Senate today.

There was no opposition in sight to the Trucks bill, and Democrats raised only feeble opposition to the constitutional proposal, apparently having been caught napping by the Senate's speed.

The Communist control bill, already passed by the House in slightly different form, requires all Communist party members or sympathizers to register with the State Police within five days, to disclose other Communists of their acquaintance and submit to fingerprinting. Officers of Communist-front organizations are required to register and submit data on the sources and use of their finances.

Senator James Teahan (R-Owosso) said the judiciary committee had revised the bill to require the attorney general to publish an annual list of subversive organizations.

The bill forbids Communists to place on election ballots, provides penalties of up to life imprisonment for sabotage, and forbids public employees to belong to subversive groups.

Tokyo Bigwig Stages Pre-Death Funeral

TOKYO—(AP)—T. Okabayashi, 54, a political bigwig in Kochi, staged his "pre-death funeral" this week. A good time was had by all, says the Kochi Shimbun.

The "pre-death funeral" is supposed to be good luck for the principal character. About 200 Kochi celebrities turned up for the funeral procession, led by a brass band playing Auld Lang Syne.

But leave it to Okabayashi to give his "funeral" a little different touch. At the height of the rites the coffin opened, out he popped and yelled: "Give me a cigarette."

Report On NATO Helps Campaign For Eisenhower

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Politicians here agreed today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's report on the first year of the Allied defense buildup is a good political campaign document.

They said it should help his backers in their drive to win the Republican Presidential nomination for him.

The 12,000-word report by the North Atlantic Treaty defense force commander was studied by Republicans and Democrats alike, hunting for political implications.

Questions Answered

Two Republican senators who say they are not committed to any candidate—Ferguson of Michigan and Mundt of South Dakota—told a reporter they found many examples.

"The report definitely answers some of the questions raised about him as a political candidate," Ferguson said.

"The people have made him a candidate, whether he wants to be one or not, and the people will read his report as the statement of a political candidate," Ferguson said.

Mundt, who weeks ago said Eisenhower could find many ways of making his views known while still a general, said the report "is one such device."

"He was filmed for television and other unorthodox media on this report," Mundt said. "I doubt that there can be any valid criticism of this unless it comes from some hatchet man for the Fair Deal."

May Return Soon
As one example, Ferguson pointed to this Eisenhower quote on dangers of Communists in labor unions:

"Yet, it has seemed more than

Reds Flung Back On Korean Front

By SAM SUMMERLIN

SEOUL, Korea—(AP)—Counter-attacking Allied troops today hurled back about 1,500 Chinese Reds who attacked U. N. lines on Korea's western front only four miles from the truce tents at Panmunjom.

The troops fought hand-to-hand at several points.

The Chinese attacked with bugs blowing under the light of red and white flares after four probing jabs had been repulsed.

The Allies withdrew, gathered for a counter-attack, then drove the Communists back to their own lines.

A front-line officer said Red casualties appeared "severe."

In a renewal of the air war over northwest Korea, U. S. F-86 Sabre jets damaged two Russian-made Mig-15s and probably damaged another.

Showdown Expected Today In Feud Of McGrath And Morris

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Attorney General McGrath talked with President Truman for 15 minutes today and left the White House declining comment on reports that his resignation was imminent.

McGrath saw the President at the height of a row with Newbold Morris, the Truman administration's cleanup chief, over the information Morris has been seeking—with Presidential backing—about the financial affairs of cabinet members and other high government officials.

Nothing To Say

All McGrath would tell newsmen afterward was:

"I discussed departmental matters with the President."

"Anything that is to be said about our discussion will be said by the President or his staff."

Asked point blank if he was going to resign, the attorney general said unsimilingly that the statement he had just made was all he had to say.

The attorney general's meeting with Truman less than 24 hours after Rep. Chelf (D-Ky) delivered to the White House—by request—a copy of McGrath's testimony before Congressional investigators. McGrath told Chelf's judiciary subcommittee Monday he wouldn't appoint Morris his special assistant if he had it to do over again.

Going Too Far

McGrath also said he had not decided whether he or any of his 596 top officials listed to receive the Morris questionnaires would answer them. Morris has asked Truman to fire any government worker who refuses to answer, de-

Airport Upkeep Funds Slashed

LANSING—(AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee today slashed almost $600,000 off the annual appropriation for local airport improvements.

Members said their decision was dictated by a belief that sufficient federal matching funds will not be available.

The revised bill, with previous and new recommendations, respectively:

Twin City airport, Benton Harbor—$11,000, none; Capital City airport, Lansing—$130,000, $35,000; Delta County airport at Escanaba—$12,500, none;

Genesee airport at Flint—$50,000, $20,000; Gogebic County airport at Ironwood—$7,500, none; Kent County airport at Grand Rapids—$165,000, $50,000;

The Mackinac Straits Bridge bill, which started out for a $2,000,000 loan and was cut to $40,000 in the House was cut again to one dollar in the Senate committee. The committee specified the commission could issue bonds for the purpose of $87,000,000 bridge, but that they would be no responsibility of the state's.

Michigan Investment In Tucson Apartment Turns Out All Right

LANSING—(AP)—Remember the burning feud between Democrats and Republicans three years ago over the state's investment of $688,000 in the El Siglo apartment house in Tucson, Ariz.?

The Council of the Republic, advisory upper house of the French Parliament, completed ratification of the plan by a 182-32 vote after an all-night debate. The National Assembly previously had approved the proposal.

Brake reported the State Employees' Retirement Fund has earned $30,595 from the investment in an FHA mortgage on El Siglo and has a certificate of claim for another $47,705. The mortgage went sour and was taken over by the federal government.

Williams, saying he was just "settling the matter straight," contended the state should have earned $80,000 on the investment.

Actually, Williams said, the state earns $78,300 if it gets all of its certificate of claim. If it doesn't he said, the state is out just that much more.

One Case Of Anthrax, Dread Stock Malady, Reported In Michigan

KALAMAZOO, Mich.—(AP)—Veterinarians reported one case of anthrax—the dread livestock disease—on a St. Joseph County farm near Burr Oak. At least two other cases were reported under observation near Sturgis and Dowagiac.

The disease apparently hopped over the state line from La Grange county, Indiana. That is the nearest approach to Michigan in an outbreak of the disease reported in Indiana, Ohio and Illinois.

Anthrax-infected bonemeal has been found at a Michigan plant, Charles Figley, director of the state department of agriculture, reported. Conferences were held in his offices Monday and Tuesday.

He had three wives, each an international beauty.

But after the third call, Percy, now a little doubtful, hurried to his Burlington home. It was on fire. Damage was estimated at $5,000.

Telephone And Telegraph Strikes Scheduled For Thursday Morning

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The nation's telegraph and telephone systems braced today for a series of threatened strikes due to start at midnight.

Approximately 30,000 Western Union employees were set to walk off the job across the country. A top official in their union, the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union, said "there definitely will be a strike as matters now stand."

Adolph Bruns, head of the CTU's Western Union division, told reporters the only chance of averting a walkout would be a proposal by the company acceptable to the union.

The CIO Communications Workers of America has called a strike of more than 40,000 American Telephone and Telegraph workers in Ohio, Michigan and Northern California for tomorrow morning. And 16,000 Western Electric Co. employees in 43 states have scheduled a strike for Monday. Western Electric is a subsidiary of A. T. & T. and its employees are also represented by the CWA.

If the Western Union strike comes off as scheduled, it is expected to cripple telegraph facilities from coast to coast, with the exception of New York City. Employees there belong to another union. But even in New York the CTU is preparing to set up picket lines in an effort to make the shutdown airtight.

The union is demanding a 16-cent across-the-board wage boost.

The revised bill, with previous and new recommendations, respectively:

Twin City airport, Benton Harbor—$11,000, none; Capital City airport, Lansing—$130,000, $35,000; Delta County airport at Escanaba—$12,500, none;

Michigan Investment In Tucson Apartment Turns Out All Right

LANSING—(AP)—Michigan gave its final "yes" today to the Schuman plan for a 50-year pact pooling the coal and steel resources of six Western European nations.

Key nations in the plan are France and West Germany. The West German parliament previously had ratified it.

The Netherlands and Italy have started ratification procedures. Belgium and Luxembourg are expected to do so soon.

The Council of the Republic, advisory upper house of the French Parliament, completed ratification of the plan by a 182-32 vote after an all-night debate. The National Assembly previously had approved the proposal.

Several Senators expressed fears, however, that the plan would be used as a tool for Germany to regain possession of the coal-rich Saar, now linked economically to France, and that it might ruin some sectors of the French coal and steel industry.

Williams, saying he was just "settling the matter straight," contended the state should have earned $80,000 on the investment.

Actually, Williams said, the state earns $78,300 if it gets all of its certificate of claim. If it doesn't he said, the state is out just that much more.

One Case Of Anthrax, Dread Stock Malady, Reported In Michigan

KALAMAZOO, Mich.—(AP)—Ingham county prosecutor Paul C. Younger ordered an investigation yesterday into the death last Friday of Rodney Rex Stout, 19, Michigan State College freshman student, found dead in his dormitory room.

Dr. Charles Black, Lansing pathologist, said Stout died of "extreme shock" and recommended an inquest. Dr. Black said there was no indication of what caused the shock.

Younger said there was no indication of foul play in the case. He said the investigation might be followed by an inquest.

Stout, from Detroit, was pronounced dead after a fire department inhalator squad worked over him for half an hour. Roommates called police when they were unable to rouse him in the morning.

This would put $5,600,000 more annually in the state treasury.

The Senate hit new snags in its extended debate on a proposal to slap a penny tax on each contract issued by the Blue Cross and Blue Shield medical and hospital care programs.

Asserting there were many inequitable exemptions in the intangible tax law, Hittle argued the state should tax half of the accounts and notes receivable of finance companies. The total of such investments now are offset by borrowings.

Small loan and finance companies, Hittle said,

Women Voters Quiz Candidates

A roundtable discussion by City Council candidates revealed to the League of Women Voters last night the position of aspirants on main points of city government operation.

Of the ten candidates invited to give their views on certain issues which have been before the citizens during the past year, eight appeared personally and two sent representatives to the meeting.

Sponsored by the League of Women Voters and held only for members, the panel discussion was designed to help the voters meet their privileges of citizenship, it was explained by Chairman Mrs. Oliver Fuller.

Candidates on the panel were H. C. Nicholson, Jacob Bink, Chester O. Rice, Emil Johnson, Robert E. LeMire, Donald Rheaume, Edward Cox, and Myron Legg. Absent candidates and their representatives were Wesley Hanson, Mrs. Hanson; and Harold C. Hayes, Fred Pollock. Representatives read the prepared answers of the absent candidates.

Four Questions

The men had previously been sent a list of four questions to which discussion would be limited at the meeting. In this way the candidates were able to ready their replies for the session.

The questions and some of the answers:

The $10 a month which the City of Escanaba pays its Council members doesn't even begin to compensate the members for the time they put on the job. Obviously, no one wants the job for the money that is in it. Why have you decided to be a candidate for City Council?

Hanson—"Moral obligation."

Hayes—"I wanted to know where the taxpayer's money goes. I thought I could further Escanaba's tourist cause, as a hotel man."

Rice—"Individual responsibility of the citizen... to run the city or it will run him."

Favor Manager Plan

In spite of the generally high regard of most of Escanaba's citizens for the present council-manager form of government, we occasionally hear of individuals who still favor the old aldermanic form of government. Do you feel that the present form of government gives the utmost efficiency to the people of Escanaba.

Hanson—"Yes, it has advanced Escanaba considerably since it was begun in 1922."

Hayes—"Yes, this form of government is sound if the members are well qualified."

Rice—"Yes."

Rheaume—"Yes."

Cox—"Although it is not 100 per cent efficient, it is the best we have had... it eliminates the spoils system."

Bink—"Yes... it is the best and most efficient."

Johnson—"Yes."

Nicholson—"Yes it eliminates confusion."

LeMire—"Yes... graft and corruption in the aldermanic form."

Briefly express your opinion on each of the following subjects: Electric Power, St. Lawrence Seaway, City-wide Traffic Safety Program, Downtown Parking Problem, Municipal Court, and Public Schools.

Hanson—"No St. Lawrence seaway without hearing here."

Hayes—"Favor a St. Lawrence seaway because it would tend to lower shipping and freight costs... a Municipal Court because it is a way to cut costs."

Rice—"Safety program... there has been great improvement in law enforcement. A grade school is still needed."

Candidates were also asked to state their experience and educational and civic background.

Organized in October of last year, the League is a group of women of the community who study local, state and federal governmental organization and issues in a program of information and service to the voters.

"Proletariat" is derived from a Latin word which referred to lower class people thought of as being valuable to the state only because they had children.

Two Boats In Today To Open Ore Season

Two Hanna boats, the Strs. Heekin and Mudge, today made their way to Escanaba to take on the season's first ore cargoes, on the Great Lakes.

At noon today the Heekin was two miles from the harbor, making her way through bay ice and escorted by the Coast Guard cutter Sundew. She reached the Chicago and North Western docks by 1 p.m.

The Mudge was due here about 5 p.m. Both ships cleared from Milwaukee and, after loading, will leave for Cleveland.

Plenty Of Ore

The season opening is one day later than last year at Escanaba.

The mines are again loading ore for Escanaba and there is sufficient ore in the yards and on the docks here to load the Heekin, Mudge, and other boats scheduled for this week.

The Heekin will take on a cargo of 10,000 tons of ore and the Mudge 8,000 tons.

There is considerable ice in northern Green bay area and the Sundew is expected to stay here until ice conditions improve. The cutter Woodbine was reportedly waiting at the edge of the ice field south of Escanaba for the arrival of the Mudge.

Ice Slows Progress — Other ships scheduled to arrive at Escanaba are the L. W. Hill on Friday, E. L. Ford on Saturday, and the D. M. Weir on Sunday.

Indicating the adverse ice condition is the slowness of the Heekin in reaching Escanaba harbor. She was first sighted about seven miles from Escanaba at 9:15 a.m. and she was not expected to dock until 1 p.m.

It was also reported that a tanker is due to arrive within a few days carrying oil from Chicago to the Thiesen-Clemens Company fuel dock at Kipling.

School Concert Applauded Here

An appreciative audience last night vigorously applauded the Escanaba city schools' spring festival concert of orchestral and vocal music in Wm. Oliver Memorial auditorium.

Elie DeDryver, Escanaba, guest cello soloist, pleased with his sensitive presentation of Godard's Berceuse from "Jocelyn," and Le Cygne by St. Aena. His encore number was "Serenade" by Pierne. He was accompanied by Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom.

DeDryver was introduced by Mrs. Clara Karas Somers, director of the grade school string ensemble and Senior String Orchestra.

Choir Opens Program

She announced that DeDryver was appearing as "a friend of all of us who are interested in music in Escanaba." DeDryver studied cello at the Royal Conservatory of Brussels, Belgium, and at the National Conservatory of Paris, France. He also played cello in the Brussels Philharmonic Orchestra.

The program was opened by the Senior High school a capella choir directed by Miss Jessie Wick.

In a group of seven numbers the choir was outstanding in Bach's "O Rejoice Ye Christians Loudly," Ryder's "Let Us Break Bread Together," and the lively interpretation of "Old King Cole" by Rhea.

The grade school string ensemble in three numbers and an encore indicated the proficiency of the students at the younger age level. They were directed by Mrs. Somers.

To Play At Marquette

The Senior High School Orchestra, directed by Robert S. Meyer, was particularly effective in the dramatic "Mowis," a symphonic poem based on an Indian legend. The piece was the orchestra's choice for presentation at the U.P. music festival to be held this coming Saturday in Marquette.

Bethoven's Largo from "Sonata No. 4" was played expressively, and the orchestra's obvious enjoyment in lighter music was indicated in the spirited "Siboney" by Leuona, and "Deep Purple" by De Rose.

The audience appreciated the orchestra's rhythmic interpretation of Strauss' "Pizzacata Polka"; and the impressive "Rosamunde Overture" by Schubert that opened the program.

Stalin Again Puts Out His Propaganda For United Germany

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
HELSINKI, Finland — (AP) —

Prime Minister Stalin's latest statement may signal an all-out drive by the Communists to penetrate the Soviet Union as the only champion of a unified Germany. Stalin said he considers the present moment opportune for统一ification of Germany. He said it at a time the Western powers are planning to sign a peace contract with West Germany, in belief that no final decision is possible in making peace with Germany as a whole. The United States, Britain and France have been unable to find an approach toward such unification that is acceptable both to East and West. The Soviet Union, for one thing, has refused to do business with a United Nations commission designated to find out if all-German elections can be held fairly and honestly.

But the unity theme has a great appeal to Germans, including many in the areas occupied by the three Western powers. Thus the Stalin statement, coming on top of Soviet approval of the idea of rearming a unified Germany, may serve as the starting point for a concerted attack on the government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

A Germany unified on Moscow terms would create a vacuum in central Europe despite Soviet claims to the contrary. The Soviet Union, of course, would like to neutralize Western Europe and bog down its building of defense works.

No Move Toward Peace
Stalin may have had still another reason for giving one of his infrequent pronouncements to westerners just at this time. It was published less than 24 hours before Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's first annual report on what the

School Study Group Meets

The Delta County Area Study committee met Tuesday afternoon and evening at Rapid River with Guy Clark of the National Education Commission, Cleveland; Roland Stolle, Wilfred Clapp and George Gilbert of the State Department of Public Instruction. The next meeting of the committee will be held at Nahma on May 5.

The transportation committee, headed by Catherine Nichol, Gladstone Rte. 1, decided to study overlapping routes and to make recommendations concerning distances that students should be expected to walk to buses.

The curriculum committee, of which Mrs. Murray Cole, Rapid River, is chairman, will make a study of teacher qualifications, and will conduct a study of curriculum recommendations of high school graduates. A study of the reasons for students quitting school also will be made.

The building committee, of which Mrs. Ted McCadden, Cornell, is chairman, met with Mr. Clapp, the state consultant. They will study school finances and population trends.

About 35 persons attended the Rapid River meeting.

The French legend of Roland is based on authentic history, an incident in one of Charlemagne's campaigns.

North Atlantic Treaty Organization has accomplished during his first year as its military commander and what the general believes it still needs to do. The Kremlines may have hoped to take some of the headline space away from the NATO record.

In short, there is no reason to assume that Stalin's statement is a real move toward peace.

Mrs. O. C. Fuller Elected President Of Women Voters

In a short business meeting last night, the League of Women Voters elected five officers and four board members to executive duties for the coming year.

New president of the organization is Mrs. O. C. Fuller; first vice president, Mrs. A. M. Gilbert; second vice president, Mrs. James Fitzharris; secretary, Mrs. R. O. Gillespie (re-elected); and treasurer, Mrs. Robert C. Haven.

Board members are Mrs. John Tornberg, Mrs. Robert Mosenfelder (immediate past president), Mrs. Victor Powers, and Mrs. Merritt Kasson.

The election preceded the League's invitational roundtable in which candidates for seats on the City Council presented some of their views on local governmental issues.

Wolverines Plan Election

Annual election of officers of the Wolverine Conservation Association will be held in the week of April 14 to 19. It was decided at a meeting of the sportsmen's group Tuesday evening. The meeting was held in the House of Ludington Marine room.

By a close vote the Wolverines expressed favor for a plan to raise the size limit on trout to ten inches and prohibit all but fly fishermen from using short stretches of streams in Conservation Department experimental work.

The group also went on record as being in favor of granting the conservation commission discretionary power to manage the deer herd.

George Marcouiller was named chairman of the membership committee and a building fund was created by assigning half of the annual membership fee to the clubhouse project.

Preceding the meeting Perc Brandt of Manitowoc entertained the sportsmen with a showing of several reels of colored movies taken in the backwoods of Canada. Pictured was some of the fabulous fishing in waters that had never or seldom been touched by the angler. In the pictures were several shots of other wildlife and much of the wild and beautiful scenery of the region.

Legislature May Yield Control Of Strictly Local Problems

ONE of the legislative bills signed into law by Governor Williams this week is particularly noteworthy because it signifies at least one evidence of the state relinquishing authority over a strictly local problem.

We are referring to the new law which makes it discretionary, rather than mandatory, for probate judges to meet in annual session and repeals the law that required counties to pay the convention expenses of probate judges.

Certainly there should be no state law requiring probate judges to attend annual conventions and no state law requiring counties to pay the expenses for convention attendance. This is a problem of the probate judges and the counties.

For some reason the state legislator in

Basic Wage Formula Needed To End Cycle

THE raging controversy over the impact of a proposed steel wage boost on the general price level ought not to be regarded as just another passing phase in the continual conflict involving labor, management and government. It has serious long-range import.

On the surface, the elements of the dispute are these: the Wage Stabilization Board has recommended that steel workers get pay hikes amounting to 17½ cents an hour, spread over 18 months in three installments. The steel companies declare they cannot accept this proposal unless they are allowed a price increase estimated at $12 a ton of steel.

Major wage disputes are commonplace today. The public, confident always that each new one will be compromised in some fashion as was the last previous one, perhaps does not appreciate the underlying dilemmas these controversies pose.

The first great puzzle is the matter of where the truth lies. The unions present a set of claims regarding economic conditions, the needs of their workers, and the companies' ability to meet those needs.

In reply, the companies offer their own version of conditions and their ability to pay. Almost inevitably, the argument revolves about the nature and meaning and size of company profits.

The dispute may be settled by negotiation, but the puzzle remains. The reason is no agreed standards exist for determining what are legitimate and necessary profits. If profits are indeed a vital part of the working of the free enterprise system, then the proper size of those earnings cannot be wholly a matter of opinion. It must be subject to some kind of objective determination.

The unions and management are constantly in disagreement on the question of profits—and hence of the company's ability to pay. But worse than this, the government, taking the role of mediator and compromiser so often today, never tackles the fundamental. It deals with each case according to fluid rules which offer little or no guide to the future.

The second dilemma is where to stop a succession of rounds of wage increases matched by price increases. Since the one begets the other, how do you check the ascending spiral except by arbitrary limiting action?

Every time another round is completed, it demonstrates a bankruptcy of economic statesmanship. Who has gained if the price increases roughly balance the wage boost and the move embraces all major fields? No one. And all those people on fixed incomes have slipped another notch farther down the living scale.

The round robin thus resorted to is, in itself, it simply reflects the dominant tendency of men in modern society to yield to pressures. Never have those pressures been more powerful, and never have they produced such fantastically absurd results. We are now debating about round six. Shall we thereafter have rounds seven, and eight, and nine? Where is this game supposed to end?

We need a wage formula founded on increases in effort, in productivity—in real wealth. With that we might get down to economic reality and away from the never-never land we've been traversing since the close of World War II.

The Doctor Says... Tapeworm Signs Rarely Appear Immediately After Infestation

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

A reader says that she has passed a long tapeworm and asks for a discussion on that subject.

Tapeworms or flat worms, of which there are several kinds, are one of several varieties of intestinal worms. All of the various kinds of tapeworms—the broad tapeworm, the dwarf, rat, beef, and the pork tapeworms—can invade human beings.

Tapeworms are present all over the world, but they are more common in some countries than in others, particularly among persons who have unfortunate eating habits.

The beef tapeworm is the most cosmopolitan. Both the adult worm and the larvae (which is the young stage in the life cycle of the worm) can become parasites of man. When first infected with adult worms, human beings usually do not show any symptoms. When symptoms do develop, they are not always alike, but depend on the number of worms present, the susceptibility of the patient to the tapeworm's poisons and the size to which the worms grow.

Such symptoms as do appear usually consists of a vague feeling of discomfort, disturbed digestion, and frequent diarrhoea, loss of weight, sleeplessness and vague pains in the stomach. Sometimes anemia is present or other signs in the blood.

The diagnosis, of course, depends on finding parts of the tapeworm or its eggs in the feces. All tapeworms are made up of a head, characteristic for each variety, and segments attached to the head like links of a chain. At the tail end, the segments contain eggs which are shed off. Of course, there are some differences in appearance and behavior of the different kinds of tapeworms.

EGGS GET IN FOOD

Most infestations of human beings come from swallowing the eggs of a tapeworm in food. When the kind of tapeworm is identified by examination of the segments or eggs found in the feces, appropriate treatment can be begun. This consists of drugs which are called "anthelmintics." There are many of these, some of which have been used for centuries.

The choice of the proper drug to use is difficult and the first treatment is not always successful. Fortunately, the success of the treatment can be checked by finding the head of the parasite. Cure is not complete until the head has been separated from the intestinal wall to which it is attached and eliminated.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Friends of President Truman attribute the following reasons for his historic decision not to run again.

First, the wishes of Mrs. Truman; 2. His age—he would have been, if elected, the oldest President ever to take the oath of office; 3. The advice of party leaders, including Speaker Sam Rayburn and Chief Justice Fred Vinson; 4. The embarrassing setback given him by Senator Kefauver in New Hampshire; and finally, the prospect that he would have to run against his old friend, General Eisenhower.

For a long time the President has indicated to members of his family and to his closer friends that he did not want to run. More recently he intimated to one close intimate that the barrage of criticism was getting on his nerves and he wanted to get out.

"There are too many b-----s in this business," he said.

Probably only three or four of his friends really knew how he felt, one of them being the chief justice, whom the President had urged to be the Democratic nominee himself.

At one time, approximately nine to twelve months ago, it was Mr. Truman's plan to appoint the chief justice to a key post in the Administration such as secretary of state or defense mobilizer in order to give him a springboard to the presidency. This was to get around the fact that the chief justice has held a vigorous view that the court should not be a springboard into politics and that no man should step from the court into an active candidacy for any office, even the presidency.

This plan was sidetracked in part by Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin, though McCarthy to this day probably doesn't realize it. However, the constant barrage of criticism fired at Dean Acheson made it imperative in the mind of Mr. Truman, whose loyalty to his friends is legion, that Acheson be continued at the helm of the State Department.

Later, as time passed, the chief justice felt it was too late for him to step into another office as a springboard to the presidency. Not enough months remained before the campaign.

TAFT TEMPTED TRUMAN

It was at this point—approximately around December and January—that President Truman seriously reconsidered changing his mind about running. This period coincided with Senator Taft's reputed gains of delegates and when the Eisenhower backers were disheartened. At that time, it looked as if Taft would be the Republican nominee, and nothing has tillitated Truman's political nostrils more than the idea of defeating his old critic and enemy, Bob Taft.

This itching on the President's part to take on Senator Taft was what caused some of his most revered political friends, including Speaker Rayburn and the chief justice, to urge him not to run. The chief justice and Speaker Rayburn discussed the matter privately and later the chief justice was selected as the man to present their joint view to the President.

This view was that Harry Truman would go down in history as a great president, if for nothing else, because of his courageous foreign policy. Historians, the chief justice is understood to have told the President, would overlook the petty political bickering and the corruption issue and would focus attention upon Truman's courage in saving Greece and Turkey from Communism, in putting across the Marshall Plan and in conceiving the North Atlantic Pact for the defense of Western Europe. It would also give him credit for his courageous stand on civil rights.

But if he ran again, Truman's friends believed, the Democratic party would be torn asunder, first over the civil rights issue, also in part over foreign policy.

The statements in reality are consistent. The trouble is that in a campaign during which a thousand speeches are made each must necessarily be limited in words and time.

To support our arms after an attitude had been assumed in Korea, however unlawfully upon the part of Mr. Truman, is just as necessary from a national standpoint as was unnecessary the long road of Lattimore-Acheson bungling that not only actually created the conflict in Korea but invited it in just so many words.

The Taft attitude says: I would never have permitted Moscow to choose Asia for a battleground but now that the regime in power is into the mud up to its ears I certainly would not desert it but instead make every exploration of the situation to find a strong way out.

We're not sure yet about the rage in clothes for women—unless it's from the husbands.

Moscow's Economic Conference Is Seen As Lure To Trade With West

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

BERLIN—(NEA)—West Germans, with wistful eyes on the vast trading opportunities in the East, attach considerable significance to the Economic Conference scheduled to open in Moscow on April 3.

Ruhr industrialists and businessmen view the gathering in the Soviet capital as an attempt to re-establish normal trade relations between the East and West.

But according to Soviet experts in Berlin—long a center of illegal East-West trading—the Economic Conference is Moscow's current Number One psychological weapon in the hot-cold war.

"The conference bids well to eclipse the Kremlin's global peace campaign launched by the Stockholm Appeal to outlaw the atom bomb," West Berlin's Mayor Ernst Reuter told NEA Service.

U. S. and Allied officials, working to plug major leaks of strategic materials from Western Europe and Germany into Iron Curtain countries, see the Russians aiming at:

1. Circumventing Western, especially U. S., restrictions on East-West trade in strategic war goods.

2. Enlisting businessmen, industrial leaders, bankers, economists and merchants from the West in the violent Soviet anti-U. S. campaign.

3. Splitting the NATO powers by exploiting the economic difficulties of some western industrial groups.

In the U. S., South America, Western Europe, India, Japan and the Middle East, the Kremlin's "Initiating Committees" are preparing the ground for the Moscow conference.

Originally, it was to have been an extension of the Cominform's World Peace Council, but this sponsorship was dropped to avoid intimidating non-Communists. New sponsor is an "International Initiating Committee" headed by Professor Oscar Lange, a former American citizen and ex-Polish Ambassador to the U. S.

"Having failed miserably to unite the workers of the world, the Russians now seek to form a popular front of capitalists," told this correspondent.

The Russians need economic aid from the "capitalist" countries to supply the Communist armies in Korea, Indo-China and Burma and to keep up the intensive armament of the satellites.

The restrictions the U. S. imposed on trade in strategic goods with the Iron Curtain countries has already seriously affected the Soviet war industry. A slow-down in war production is reported by

"to secure personal contact" with the Russians.

The Kremlin, however, seems to have had much more success with industrial and business circles in Japan, South America and Western Europe.

The Paris Le Monde, which frequently speaks for France's heavy industry, said French industrialists and bankers are begging for a chance to go to Moscow.

In Britain there have been demands in Parliament and by former Labor Ministers that the government participate officially in the conference. Foreign Minister Anthony Eden announced that such participation would not be "favorable," but said private individuals were free to go to Moscow.

Similar demands have been made in the financial press of Western Europe from Paris to Stockholm.

Soviet "commercial" sources in Berlin say the Japanese have been invited to the conference as "guests of honor." Some Japanese insist they will attend. Premier Yoshida is being pressured to send an official delegation.

Stephen Foster Sang Of Home, Yet Died Homeless

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Stephen Foster, composer of "My Old Kentucky Home" and "Old Folks at Home" ("Way Down Upon de Swannee Ribber") lived a short life.

Foster won fame for his songs of the South, although he was a Northerner. He made Florida's Suwannee River famous although he never saw it. His melodies speak with tenderness of family and home, yet he died homeless and forsaken in a New York hospital charity ward on January 13, 1864.

July 4, 1826 was an appropriate birthday for the creator of outstanding American folk songs. Stephen Collins Foster was born in Lawrenceville, Pennsylvania, now part of Pittsburgh, on that 50th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. On the same day, both John Adams and Thomas Jefferson, the nation's second and third presidents, died.

Young Foster mastered his three R's at academies in Pennsylvania. At one, Athens Academy, he composed his first song when only 14 years old. It was "The Tioga Waltz" for flutes. Formal education proved irksome. The lad preferred to ramble in the woods and make up tunes, or to put on minstrel shows with other boys.

Musical careers were then unfashionable and Foster forbade him to study the art. Stephen taught himself the rudiments. Occasionally he went for help to a musician friend, Henry Kleber.

In 1846 Foster's father sent his son to Cincinnati to learn book-keeping from an elder brother. Stephen paid little attention to his ledgers. He wandered along the waterfront which reminded him of home. Southern planters, rivermen, and Negro roustabouts again stirred him.

In 1852 the composer went to New Orleans to see the South of his songs. On his way he stopped at Bardstown in central Kentucky to visit a cousin, Colonel Rowan, at Federal Hill. Here he composed his deathless ballad, "My Old Kentucky Home," now Kentucky's state song.

THE RIVALS—Dr. Max P. Allen, director of instruction and educational service, Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette, had a word to say concerning inter-city rivalries while in Escanaba the other day.

"There are times when rivalry can be carried too far," said Dr. Allen, speaking to the Escanaba Rotary Club.

"Marquette and Escanaba have often been in rivalry—sometimes to the benefit of neither," he added.

And he then explained that Escanaba people, as well as those of Marquette, should be interested in a conference to be held at NMCE May 22-24, inclusive—"a conference to promote unity and effective leadership."

His brief plea against senseless rivalry ended with an invitation to Escanabans to enroll for the conference at Marquette.

FOR A LONG TIME—We agree in part with Dr. Allen that inter-city rivalry is result in a deadly condition of no progress.

Even a brief perusal of early-day newspaper files in either Marquette or Escanaba will reveal that rivalry between the two cities has been long and sometimes bitter.

Newspaper editors in the period from 1860-1900 considered no weekly issue complete without a scathing denunciation of the rival community, its newspaper, and the newspaper editor.

Sometimes these wordy jousts resulted in real enmity; more often than not it was mere window dressing without personal animosity.

The newspaper rivalry was open and aboveboard; but the political and economic rivalries were often carried on behind closed doors.

IT IS WORTHWHILE—Much of the old rivalry has been broken down with the development of better transportation and communication.

There is a greater feeling of unity among the people of the Upper Peninsula now than in an earlier day. It is a regional cohesion minimizing

A Boy At Calvary

That Sakron's parents would let him go to Jerusalem to see the outlaw Barabbas was unthinkable. Still he could ask. That night the boy did: 'Father, I wish to go to Jerusalem.' 'You mean a Passover pilgrimage?' 'Yes, yes, of course,' answered Sakron quickly.

In high holiday spirits, Sakron and three friends set out for the golden capital. Entering Bethany, on the outskirts of Jerusalem, the four saw a large crowd around the house of one Simon, the leper.

By Jay Heavlin and Walt Scott

Though his friends were impatient to reach Jerusalem, Sakron ran to the crowd and learned that a man who could, it was claimed, heal the sick and raise the dead was staying with Simon.

Already the priests of the temple feared the man's following. What would they do when he entered their city for the holidays? Sakron rejoiced. This Jesus of Nazareth might produce excitement.

What In The World?

By L. EARLE DAVIDSON

ISTANBUL, Turkey—Before World War II split the East and West wide open, most of the Balkan countries were visited a great deal by Americans. Now only two, Greece and Turkey, are still allied with the West. The rest are behind the iron curtain. And because Greece and Turkey are so far from Europe, few Americans are seen in these fascinating little nations these days. Yet both are "going western" in a big way.

After the darkness of Yugoslavia, both Greece and Turkey have been extremely welcome sights to those of us on this editor's tour. Here in Istanbul, for instance, there are 10,000 taxicabs honking their way through busy downtown traffic. Istanbul stands astride the Bosphorus, connecting link between the Black Sea and the Mediterranean. Part of the city is in Europe and part in Asia. Surrounding the old city are the high, crumpling walls, with parapets every hundred yards or so, built by the Christian Emperor Constantine, of Rome, after whom the city was formerly named. At a turn changed the name from Constantinople to Istanbul.

This is a magic city of mosques, something over 500 of which push their minarets into the sky and provide Istanbul with that different appearance so often associated with the East.

We had plenty of time for sightseeing in Istanbul. Because of bad weather over a wide area to the east, our plane was grounded and we had to pass up going to Ankara. So we decided to stick it out here and fly directly to Teheran, in Iran, as soon as the weather cleared—which was two days later.

Recommended By Many Leading BABY DOCTORS to relieve distress of kiddies' CHEST COLDS Child's MUSTEROLE.

We wanted to visit a mosque, and an old one. So we went to St. Sophia, which was originally a Greek Orthodox Church built by Emperor Constantine in the 347. St. Sophia was badly damaged by fire in 404, but was rebuilt by Justinian the Great, who started work on the edifice in 532 and completed it twenty years later.

St. Sophia is architecturally magnificent, with 40 huge columns on the ground level and 68 more on the raised gallery section. The massive dome, uniquely designed without heavy supports, stands at a height of 184 feet and we are told it is second only to the dome of St. Peter's in Rome.

When the church was first built, some of the most priceless mosaics dating from the fourth to the fourteenth century were a part of its paneled walls. All of these beautiful mosaics depicted stories and passages from the Bible. After the Turks captured Constantinople, they converted the edifice into a mosque and covered all the mosaics with thick plaster. When St. Sophia was reopened as a museum in 1935, it was decided to uncover the mosaics and reveal their beauty to the world again. A twenty year program of restoration is now at a point where most of the treasures can once more be seen.

Some of us also went over to see the Topkapi Palace, historic seat of the Ottoman Turkish sultans from 1472 to 1853. It is a veritable temple of art and history covering nearly five centuries of Turkish culture. Its four vast wings contain oil portraits of the Ottoman sultans, bejeweled arms and ornaments, the old harem quarters, beautiful fabrics, Turkish tiles, and the most remarkable collection of Chinese and Japanese porcelains in the world.

We also visited the Grand Bazaar, which is the old central

At the same time there are workers in our member countries still suffering from the delusion that their interests are served by association with Communist-led labor groups. It is nightmare that any free worker of the west could respond voluntarily to the same Kremlin voices that have dictated the elimination of free labor unions to Russia and satellite countries.

In the free system, labor is a full-fledged partner and must share in responsibility equally as it must share in productivity."

Agreeing with this, Ferguson said extended Congressional investigations had convinced him "there are people in our own labor unions who are really Communists even though slave labor is a product of Communism."

Publication of the NATO report increased recurring rumors that Eisenhower soon may ask President Truman for relief from his command and return here to campaign, probably late in May.

Auditor General Gets On Ike's Bandwagon

LANSING—Auditor General John B. Martin Jr. today announced himself in favor of the Republican nomination of General Dwight D. Eisenhower for president.

Martin, a candidate for Republican nomination for the U. S. Senate, said that "people everywhere today are weighted down by the fear of a third world war."

"It will take unequaled skill to chart course which will avoid that dread catastrophe x x x," Martin said. "I am convinced that the great mass of our citizens believe that General Eisenhower has this skill and the qualities of leadership most needed in a time of national peril."

Martin emphasized he "has no criticism" of any other candidates for the Republican nomination but added that he hoped the Republican national convention will "recognize the overwhelming force of public opinion and will nominate Eisenhower."

Martin was the second key Michigan political figure to announce himself for Eisenhower. Secretary of State Fred M. Alger Jr., a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, earlier declared himself an Eisenhower backer.

'Valley Of Hell' In Italy Is Harnessed For Industrial Power

By FRANK BRUTTO

AP Newsfeatures
LARDERELLO, Italy — Grumbling and the stench of rotten eggs announce Italy's "Valley of Hell," where volcanic power has been harnessed and put to work.

As you come over a last ridge in the beautiful Tuscan hills near Pisa the Valley of Larderello suddenly is below you—a fantastic, monstrous tentacled mass of metal pipes and weirdly shaped, bloated 200-foot-high chimneys.

Steam Clouds Valley

Hundreds of puffs and jets of steam issue from the brick and metal giant and merge into a cloud that hangs over chimneys and derricks. As you near them the rotten egg smell gets stronger and the grumbling becomes a roar.

This is Larderello, where apparently limitless volcanic power has been harnessed to help turn the industrial wheels of fuel-poor Italy.

Smashed by retreating German forces in the final days of World War II the tangled mass of brick and metal tubes was fully restored by the Italians in two years with the help of European Recovery program loans. It now yields thousands of tons of chemicals and electric power for Italian railroads and industries.

Sites On Volcano

Larderello is a valley that sits uneasily on top of a volcano that apparently has never blasted through the earth's outer crust. Some day it may do that. At Larderello its boiling power comes so close to the earth's surface that it can be reached by drilling.

An ERP loan of $850,000 in November, 1959, was used to purchase four complete rotary drilling units that bored to a depth of 2,000 meters—more than a mile down into the molten mass of fire and steam.

With these units, Larderello's production of boric acid, ammonia and other chemicals rose from 5,220 tons in 1948 to 6,840 tons last year. More important, electric power production increased from 800 million to 1,800 million kilowatt hours.

Production Expanded

Another loan of $850,000 from the Export-Import Bank provided for three more rotary drilling units which will further increase the valley's production.

Larderello's power plants are about half the size of a city block. Inside them are rows of giant turbine generators. Steam is conducted to the bloated chimney structures where it is cooled and from them goes to plants where chemicals are extracted.

Outside the plants are transformers that generate electric power and then send it through the power lines that stalk like giants from the valley and over the Italian hills. Derricks dot the valley, giving it a slight resemblance of an American oil field.

First Use by Frenchman

The first efforts to use it was made by a French nobleman in 1815. A little later he collected some of the smoking valley's basic acid for commercial use.

Experiments to utilize its natural steam power began 80 years later. But the first big steam well was not brought in until 1931. After that, the valley came under the control of the Italian State Railways.

Judge Arold Murphy Of Marinette Loses Wisconsin Election

MILWAUKEE—(AP)—Grover L. Broadfoot, 59, won the right yesterday to continue as a supreme court justice until Jan. 1, 1956.

Justice Broadfoot, who was appointed to the high court on Nov. 12, 1948, by former Gov. Oscar Rennебrook, to succeed the late Justice Elmer E. Barlow, defeated circuit judge Arold Murphy of Marinette in yesterday's election.

Returns from 3,154 of the state's 3,204 precincts gave Broadfoot 491,130 votes to 404,210 for Murphy.

Broadfoot could not run for the office of Barlow's term before this year because there can not be more than one supreme court justice elected in any one year.

'Valley Of Hell' In Italy Is Harnessed For Industrial Power

By FRANK BRUTTO

AP Newsfeatures

LARDERELLO, Italy — Grumbling and the stench of rotten eggs announce Italy's "Valley of Hell," where volcanic power has been harnessed and put to work.

As you come over a last ridge in the beautiful Tuscan hills near Pisa the Valley of Larderello suddenly is below you — a fantastic, monstrous tentacled mass of metal pipes and weirdly shaped, bloated 200-foot-high chimneys.

Steam Clouds Valley

Hundreds of puffs and jets of steam issue from the brick and metal giant and merge into a cloud that hangs over chimneys and derricks. As you near them the rotten egg smell gets stronger and the grumbling becomes a roar.

This is Larderello, where apparently limitless volcanic power has been harnessed to help turn the industrial wheels of fuel-poor Italy.

Smashed by retreating German forces in the final days of World War II the tangled mass of brick and metal tubes was fully restored by the Italians in two years with the help of European Recovery program loans. It now yields thousands of tons of chemicals and electric power for Italian railroads and industries.

Site On Volcano

Larderello is a valley that sits uneasily on top of a volcano that apparently has never blasted through the earth's outer crust. Some day it may do that. At Larderello its boiling power comes so close to the earth's surface that it can be reached by drilling.

An ERP loan of $850,000 in November, 1959, was used to purchase four complete rotary drilling units that bored to a depth of 2,000 meters — more than a mile down into the molten mass of fire and steam.

With these units, Larderello's production of boric acid, ammonia and other chemicals rose from 5,220 tons in 1948 to 6,840 tons last year. More important, electric power production increased from 800 million to 1,800 million kilowatt hours.

Production Expanded

Another loan of $850,000 from the Export-Import Bank provided for three more rotary drilling units which will further increase the valley's production.

Larderello's power plants are about half the size of a city block. Inside them are rows of giant turbine generators. Steam is conducted to the bloated chimney structures where it is cooled and from them goes to plants where chemicals are extracted.

Outside the plants are transformers that generate electric power and then send it through the power lines that stalk like giants from the valley and over the Italian hills. Derricks dot the valley, giving it a slight resemblance of an American oil field.

First Use by Frenchman

The first efforts to use it was made by a French nobleman in 1815. A little later he collected some of the smoking valley's boric acid for commercial use.

Experiments to utilize its natural steam power began 80 years later. But the first big steam well was not brought in until 1931. After that, the valley came under the control of the Italian State Railways.

piece military band, thunderous and stirring on official occasions or in band concerts, can (and on occasion must) change color like a chameleon and be a symphony orchestra or a dance band as well.

America Loves Music

The Navy Band and Commander Brendler like the annual two month tours. The band belongs to the nation, not simply to the nation's capital.

"I believe that America is the most musically-minded country in the world and that Americans have the finest appreciation of music," Commander Brendler has said.

Basing his belief on his experience with the Navy Band on tour, Commander Brendler points to the enthusiasm that greets the band wherever it goes. The band repertoire appeals to the musical tastes of all and, by its manner of playing, gives all groups the finest music the ear can listen to.

Band Is Versatile

The Navy Band will play twice in Escanaba. A student matinee, which may also be attended by adults, will be presented at 2:30 in the afternoon, and the evening concert is scheduled for 8:15 o'clock.

Commander Brendler, leader of the Navy Band since 1941, has achieved notable distinction both in Washington and throughout this country and Canada. Under his direction the 90-

I'M so dumb I think a monogrammed liar is one who carves the stuff on tombstones. But I'm not so dumb when it comes to awnings—it's not an exaggeration when I say you make a grave mistake if you don't choose Zephyr! Here's a way to beautify your home and also provide year round protection for your drapes, curtains and rugs against sun-fading and rotting. Made of California redwood or durable aluminum, Zephyr awnings come in attractive styles and colors to blend with any style home. Stop in at Provo Sign Service soon and shoot the breeze about Zephyr. No hot air at Provo!

PANTS may be singular or plural; when men wear them, it's plural; when boys don't wear them out, it's singular! Be prepared for the unusual we see the rayon and nylon pants for boys at the Fair Store. Reinforced for extra long wear, these pants have the unparalleled distinction of being guaranteed for six months wear! Sizes 6 to 12 in these Striders have elastic inserts at the waist and come in air force blue and dark brown for $4.98. In boy's sizes, 14 to 20, the pants have an elastic waistband to keep shirts tucked in. Same colors plus gray: $5.95. Corral that young cowboy and herd him into the Fair for some Striders. It will brand you as one smart mama!

I SOMETIMES think women get I Easter Sunday mixed up with Decoration Day. They're running the two pretty close together down at Garrard Jewelers—decoration was last week when they painted the walls in subtle shades of dusty rose and velvet turquoise. They've done some shifting about, too, to make the store larger and ready to hold all the more of their famous watches, jewelry, and fine electrical appliances. Be sure to stop at Garrard's. They've been doing more than color-scheming, and can furnish you with some mighty decorative ideas!

I CAN'T fix a flat—but I sure have lots of ideas about how to fix an apartment! And most of my ideas have to do with new book cases here, another closet yonder, and cornice boards up there! For all kinds of building supplies I send my man to the Stephenson Lumber Company where henpecked husbands are greeted warmly and given lots of sage advice about building problems. (I wouldn't even be surprised if they discussed problem wives—or at least cussed them!) So whether you're just doing some fixing up for spring or really starting on new house plans, lumber on out to Stephenson for crack service and quality materials!

THE trouble with some girls is that they say what other women only think! But I've discovered that all the girls think Culligan Soft Water is delightful and don't hesitate to say so. For while women may be taken for granted, they never go without saying! Especially when they've found a way to save money, keep their hands soft, get a wonderful shampoo, keep the laundry extra white and yet use less soap! No magic—it's all done with Culligan Soft Water. Make that phone call today and ask for Culligan service. You'll be mighty glad I talked you into it!

YOU have to be little to be little. And you have to be little to wear the dresses I found at Penney's . . . precious Easter frocks for the small fry. It's easy to give these darling dresses a big build-up—the fabrics are embossed cottons, rayon butcher weaves, and durable Dan River ginghams! Pastels or gay prints in sizes 3 to 14: $2.98 to $4.98. First Communion dresses of importance—$2.98 and $3.98.

IT'S too bad those speakers who talk "straight from the shoulder" can't speak from a little higher up! Though I'm not one to minimize shoulders—not after I saw the new shipment of formal that has arrived at Lauerman's! A girl uses her head all right when she decides on one of these creations for the Spring prom; prices begin at $15.95. A shimmering gold lace and net frock has a gold satin sash and tiny satin buttons. A bolero jacket to slip on in case you get the cold shoulder! Marvelous embossed organdy in blue or pink has tiny rose gays at the square neckline and a narrow velvet ribbon sash in contrasting color. A trip to Lauerman's, and you're so formal!

ALL work and no plagiarism makes a dull writer. But with women's clothes it's different. Everyone likes an original! That's why I predict such success for the Trudy Hall Originals at Gartner's. One gray cotton dress sports a jacket over a sleeveless frock. The jacket is simply outstanding with its lavish trim of embroidered braid and red and white rickrack. Another ensemble has a sheer lavender dress topped with a matching jacket of heavier fabric. Smart cottons and rayons in these Turdy Hall's with prices beginning at a modest $8.95. Also new coats arriving daily at Gartner's. Today's favorite, a navy blue with white detachable collar. Designed to cover the subject—you!

AS WE LIVE*2nd Wife Plays Role Of Mother For Spite

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph. D. (Q) "I have been divorced for several years and my husband has remarried. Our children are of high school age and have always made their home with me. This second wife goes out of her way to introduce herself to the children's friends and their parents as their stepmother. The children resent this very much. Is it proper for her to do this and, if not, what can I do about it?"

Troubled Mother

(A) Your husband's second wife is legally your children's stepmother. And, because that is her legal status, it is proper for her to call herself by that name.

But because she has assumed none of the duties and responsibilities of a mother, she's sailing under false colors.

What her motive for this is, I don't know. Perhaps she would like to play the role of mother to them and feels that by calling herself "stepmother", she may someday be able to play that role.

The chances are more likely, it is a form of spite. She knows the children resent their father's divorce and remarriage. The fact they have always made their home with you has made that clear to her.

Therefore, out of spite, she has tried to embarrass them before their friends. Calling herself "their stepmother" announces the fact that their father preferred her to you. And because children even of school age, rarely hide their feelings, she is well aware that what she is doing gets under their skin.

There is nothing that you or your children can do to put a stop to it. If you put up a protest or tell her that it embarrasses the children, you will play right into her hands.

It would be much better for the children if you and they simply ignored it. No matter how you feel, keep your feelings under such good control that no one will sense them. If she finds she no longer gets a rise, this woman may stop calling herself "stepmother."

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help you. Write in care of this newspaper.

To make a good appetizer: cut slices of bacon in half crosswise, and wrap the half-slices around big chunks of canned pineapple; secure with a toothpick and broil slowly, turning once, until the bacon is crisp.

Thief Steals Three Autos

Theft of three cars late Monday night or early Tuesday morning, one in Rapid River and two in Manistique, was still unsolved late yesterday although two of the machines have been recovered, it is reported by Manistique state police.

The Rapid River car was found on Oak street, near the Manistique post office, shortly after 8 a.m. yesterday. Its owner, Napoleon Vianu, came to Manistique yesterday morning and reclaimed his machine.

One of the Manistique cars, owned by Lester Richards, 325 Oak St., was found at 9:15 a.m. yesterday on US-2 about a quarter mile east of the city limits. It was out of gas.

The third car, owned by Raymond Knauf, Lake St., was still unlocated at a late hour yesterday. All of the machines were taken after 10 p.m. Monday from parking places near the homes of their owners.

State police conjecture that the thief abandoned the Rapid River car here when the gasoline gauge registered empty and then stole the Richards machine to continue the trip eastward. When the Richards car ran out of gas a short distance east of the city, the thief walked back to Manistique and took the Knauf auto.

Richards found his own car after reporting the loss to state police. It was while police were looking for the Richards and Knauf machines that they got a report from Gladstone state police on the Rapid River car.

Circuit Judge Issues Temporary Injunction On County Truck Deal

A temporary injunction restraining the Schoolcraft County Road Commission from accepting delivery of or making payment for trucks and dump boxes recently ordered from Specker Super Service, of Marquette, was issued yesterday in Sault Ste. Marie by Circuit Judge Herbert W. Runnels.

The bill of complaint, signed by six Manistique auto dealers, stated that acceptance of the Marquette dealer's bid for the trucks and dump boxes "was contrary to law, and the consummation of such transaction would be unlawful for the following reasons, to-wit:

"The Board invited bids on equipment of a certain description and specifications, but has undertaken to purchase equipment of substantially different description and specifications; the Board at the time of advertising for proposals had no intention to purchase trucks of a two-ton rating, but nevertheless did confuse prospective bidders by asking for bids only on trucks of a two-ton rating; most of the bidders relied on the Board's representations and were misled and deceived; with reference to the equipment covered by said bid of Specker Super Service there has not in fact been free, fair and competitive bidding as the law contemplates; all of which is contrary to law and to plaintiffs' rights as taxpayers".

Local auto dealers who signed the complaint were Alex Creighton, Richard J. Rorick, R. a y m o n d Knauf, Ellsworth Curran, Ernest G. Carlstrom, and Walter P. Linderoth. They were represented by the law firm of Herbert, Wood and Hood.

Russell Watson has again been selected to head the membership committee. The fees remain unchanged at $42 for family memberships, $30 for men's single membership, $18 for women, and $10 for an associate membership.

Other officers elected for the current year are Thomas H. Bolitho, vice president, and Fred H. Hahne, secretary-treasurer.

Directors of the club follow:

Term expiring in 1952: Thomas H. Bolitho, Elwood Taylor, Russell Watson.

Term expiring in 1953: A. J. Cayia, Barney Johnson, Vern Dufour.

Term expiring in 1954: R. G. Hentschell, Bud Malloy and Fred H. Hahne.

The club owns and operates the nine-hole Indian Lake golf course. A modern club building was completed and opened late last spring.

ELECTION NOTICE

To the Qualified Electors of the City of Escanaba, Michigan:

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Al Ness, veteran American Legion Junior baseball coach here, ran off some fine films at the Pony League baseball meeting the other night . . . Al was down in Florida a few weeks ago and visited training camps of the Tigers, Yankees, Phillies and others . . . The movies would be great for showing to our younger ball players around here . . . Asked how the big leaguers looked, Al replied: "I kept thinking all the time I was there that our young boys around here look just as good as some of the highly rated rookies."

Got a call yesterday from Leo Legacy, well-known Menominee-Marquette boxing manager . . . Leo's boys (most of whom appeared in the Golden Gloves tournament here) did well in a card at Green Bay Saturday night, winning four of five bouts . . . Ronnie Barrett was the only loser, and that by an unpopular decision . . . Wins were turned in by Jim Meissner, Tom Morin, Clyde Schutte and Dick Boye.

We've had nothing but good comment on the recent Gold Medal basketball tournament conducted at Hermansville . . . Even losing teams complimented the tourney officials and the Hermansville townspeople for the excellent running of the tournament . . . Nearly every team left with these words: "We'll be back next year." . . . The tournament was one of the best in the 14-year history at Hermansville, Manager Glenn Fleetwood said.

It looks as though the long-awaited independent basketball game between the Escanaba Al's and Harnischfeier will come off as the finale of the season . . . Both quints have had busy and successful seasons in and around Escanaba and the game would be a natural climax as the teams have never met.

Casey Confident Yankees Can Win

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(P)—Joe Di Maggio is gone, but Manager Casey Stengel still thinks his New York Yankees will win their fourth successive American League pennant.

"My men got the stuff," Casey said. "We were good enough before and I think we can do it again."

"The league will be stronger because of the improvement of the Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Browns. Cleveland has that great pitching and Chicago has that speed and hustle. But we're strong finishers, as we have proved in the last three years. Also, we don't have that long losing streak. I don't believe we've lost four in a row since I came here in 1949."

Starters Unknown

The only thing that can stop the Yankees is injuries, Stengel believes.

Although Stengel claimed he had the best outfield, he was at a loss to name his three regular picket-men. For that matter, with the exception of Yogi Berra behind the plate, Phil Rizzuto at shortstop and Joe Collins at first base, the old professor still hasn't been able to make a starting lineup.

Stengel's outfield currently consists of veterans Gene Woodling and Hank Bauer, sophomores Mickey Mantle and Jackie Jensen and rookies Bob Cerv and Archie Wilson.

Outfield Picture

Until further notice, the outfield picture shapes up this way: Mantle and Bauer will alternate in right field depending upon the type of fielding required by the opposition. Jensen and Cerv will be two-platooned in center and Woodling will be the regular left fielder. A leg injury to Billy Martin, the pending call to service of Gerry Coleman and the sudden rise of rookie Andy Carey, has changed the entire complexion of the infield. The indications are that Coleman will open the season at second, provided he is rejected for marine service. In that case, 1951 rookie-of-the-year Gil McDougald will play third.

In Vic Raschi (21-10), Allie Reynolds (17-8) and Ed Lopat (21-9), the Yankees possess three of the best pitchers in baseball. Sophomore Tom Morgan, (9-3) and Bob Kuzava (11-5) likely will be the other starters.

Hope Lands Two On All-Conference '5'

DETROIT — (P)—Hope college's champions placed two men on the 1951-52 all-conference basketball team announced today by Richard Ernst, assistant commissioner of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Hope placed Ron Bos and Bob Vissers. Also on the first team were John Porter, Albion, league's top scorer; Tom Walsh, Hillsdale; Manny Glasser, Kalamazoo; and Bob Pueschner, Alma. Glasser and Pueschner tied for fifth place.

Boxer Is In Serious Condition After KO

PITTSBURGH—(P)—Ray Fields, a 132-pound fighter out of Washington, Pa., is in "serious" condition today at St. Francis Hospital after being knocked out in a semi-final bout at Flamingo Fields.

An attending physician said it appeared the boxer suffered a severe brain concussion.

Cleveland Indian Backer Is Plagued By Bad Dream

BY GAYLE TALBOT

LOS ANGELES—(P)—The unofficial spokesman for the Cleveland Indians said he kept having a bad dream in which he saw before him the lifetime batting averages of Luke Easter, Larry Doby, Al Rosen and all the other ball sluggers who make up the Cleveland array.

He said it was so vivid sometimes that he would wake up with a start, bathed in sweat, and Al Rosen, Indians and the other ball sluggers who make up the Cleveland array.

It doesn't mean anything, of course," said the man, who lives and dies with the American league runners-up, "but what I keep seeing is that the way these guys hit last year wasn't any slump at all, but just their normal gait. Crazy, isn't it?"

Eating Hot Stuff

"I know we are going to win the pennant, because Luke and Larry and Al and Ray Boone all are bound to hit higher than they did last year, and we've got the best pitching there is. But I wish I wouldn't keep getting that dream. I told our manager, Al Lopez, about it, and Al says it's probably due to this hot stuff I've been eating over in Tucson.

"Nobdy knows better than I do that Easter isn't any .270 hitter and Rosen isn't any .265 man. That's only what they hit last year, and we know that both really can polish that apple. Hell, they'll both go over .300 this season and I wouldn't be surprised to see them hit 40 homers apiece. But I keep getting that damn dream.

"Do you, personally, think that Boone is a .233 hitter? That kid not only is a good shortstop, but he is all right with that wagon tongue, too. He'll blast that ball this year and we might finish 15 games ahead of the Yankees. I'm silly to pay any attention to a dream like that, right? That Doby, he'll probably hit around .350 and this time next year you'll be wondering why you didn't see it coming."

Lack Leader?

We assured the Cleveland man we did not believe in dreams as an exact science, and after he had wiped the sweat away he continued:

"Another thing, they keep saying that we haven't got a take-charge guy on our club. Whoever invented that phrase, and how recently? I keep hearing and reading about this phenomenal character and I still don't know exactly what he is supposed to do. This game is getting complicated.

"Used to be if you had nine good men out there you had a fair chance of winning. We got that, but they say we haven't got this genius who gives with the signals, the man with the big brains. Hell, we've got as smart a little dude as there is in the game in that Bobby Avila out there on second base.

"First time Leo Durocher ever saw Avila handle a ball in Havana Leo says there's a big leaguer. It wasn't a hard chance, either, but Leo knew. Bobby's the man who could be our take-charge guy except that he can't speak English good enough."

Praises Mates

Kutches, in a brief acceptance speech, praised his team mates and thanked St. Joe fans for their loyal support during the basketball and football seasons.

The 1951-52 Trojan cagers posted record of 17 victories against three defeats. The team won 14 and lost two in regular season, captured the district championship in two games, posted one win in the regional tournament and lost to Houghton in the U. P. championship game.

Collegiate Ring Champs Get Crack At Olympic Team

MADISON, Wis.—(P)—Winners of the 1951-52 Wisconsin State Athletic Association boxing tournament starting here tomorrow will qualify for U. S. Olympic team trials at Kansas City this summer.

The three day tourney will open with a two-session, 35-round card to be held at the University of Wisconsin fieldhouse.

Semi-finals will be staged Friday night and the final events Saturday night on the 15th annual card for the nation's top collegiate boxers.

Scores of 80 or better qualified.

Of the 75 college boxers entered in the tourney, Michigan State College starts off with seven bouts in the quarterfinal pairings.

The Spartan contingent is headed by Chuck Speiser in the 178-pound class.

Bruins Upset Canadiens 3-2 To Square Up Series

(By The Associated Press)

The expected clash between the Detroit Red Wings and the Montreal Canadiens for hockey's treasured Stanley Cup is a bit doubtful today.

Detroit more than lived up to its expectations by thrashing the defending champion Toronto Maple Leafs in four straight games.

The Wings, who won the National Hockey League pennant in a breeze, gained the finals last night by downing the Leafs, 3-1, for their fourth straight victory in the scheduled seven games series.

But the rookie studious Canadiens stubbed their toes again in Boston. The Bruins upset the Canadiens, 3-2, to square their best-of-seven series at 2-2.

Home Advantage

Montreal still retains an advantage over the Bruins as the fifth and seventh game, if necessary, will be played in the Canadiens' citadel. The sixth game will be played in Boston.

The Wings capitalized on two penalties in beating the proud Leafs. Harry Watson, a former Wing, opened the scoring for To-

Nation's Highest Scorer Misses Important Bucket

NEW YORK—(AP)—Basketball record books will show that Clyde Lovellette scored the highest three-point total of any player in history—an astounding 1,888. But the points the big guy will never forget are the two he didn't make last night.

The human scoring scourge from Kansas University missed perhaps the most important field goal of his life—"A dinky old one-footer"—as his team dropped a tinging 62-60 decision to the Peoria Caterpillars in the finals of the Olympic basketball tournament.

Too, it will go into the books that Peoria, the AAU champion, won the game when Howie Williams connected with a 20-foot one-hander with eight seconds to go.

Simple Layup

But if you talk to anyone who saw the game—there were 6,234 of 'em in Madison Square Garden last night—they'll tell you Lovellette's miss of a simple layup was the big story.

With the score tied 60-60 and 15 seconds left, Lovellette electrified the crowd by stealing the ball from Peoria's Marcus Freiberger.

The 244-pound giant lumbered down the court with nary a defender under the Caterpillar goal. There was a Kansas teammate on each side of the basket.

Lovellette strode in himself, aiming to dunk one of the easiest baskets he'd ever made.

But the ball wouldn't behave. It rolled off to the left, leaving everyone in the big arena stunned.

"I felt sick," said the record-breaking All-America later. "After making all those tougher baskets I had to go and blow that dinky old one-footer."

After the historic miss, Ronnie Bontemps of Peoria grabbed the rebound as the clock spun toward the zero mark.

Quick Score

Bontemps fired down court to Williams, who sent a high-arching one-hander through the hoop to climax one of the most heated games seen here this season.

After the game there was some question whether Lovellette should have passed to a teammate under the goal. But he was in the clear and odds on him missing a basket as easy as that probably would have been something like 1-to-100.

As a result of its hard-earned victory, Peoria is the supreme ruler of amateur basketball in this country. Five of the caterpillar players have qualified for the U. S. Olympic team, and with seven members from Kansas and two from the Phillips Oilers, will journey to Finland this summer for the International competition.

The victory made Peoria's Coach Warren Womble, only 32, mentor of the Olympic cage squad. Phog Allen, Kansas coach, will be his assistant.

Red Wings Win 3-1 To Cop Stanley Cup Playoff Berth

TORONTO — (AP) — Detroit's Red Wings, whose role of sitting ducks has been a by-word in Stanley Cup finals over the years, today are in the happy position of entering the best-of-seven final round with nothing except probably an overdose of staleness.

They roared into the finals last night with a 3-1 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs—their fourth straight—and now they'll take it easy until the Montreal-Boston semi-final feud ends sometime this week or early next. The Canadiens and Bruins now are tied two games each.

By the time Montreal and Boston are finished the Wings will have a few days' rest for the series for the $50 cup donated by Lord Stanley 60 years ago. Their record since the trophy went into exclusive possession of the National Hockey League in 1926 now is 11 times in the finals and winners only four.

Soft Series
And this record can be blamed, for the most part, on the physical beatings they've taken in the semi-finals.

But this latest series was one of their softest in history. They knocked over the defending cup champions by 3-0, 1-0, 6-2 and 3-1 scores and they were extended only in one game, the 1-0 batte at Detroit last Thursday.

Only one player on the roster, defenseman Red Kelly, was on the injured list with a sprained arm but advice from the Red Wing camp is that he'll be ready to go at any time.

A crowd of 13,547 watched last night's last-chance game for the Leafs and they weren't impressed by their heroes who have managed only three goals in 240 minutes of playoff struggling. And it was the first time in cup play that the Leafs have been defeated four straight.

Leafs Lead 1-0

Harry Watson, big Leaf left-winger, sent the home-town crowd into a roaring mass just two minutes and two seconds after Referee Bill Chadwick made the game-opening face-off. But the glee turned to gloom when the Wings pumped in a pair before the period ended.

They made it a 3-1 lead in the second period and that was curtains for the in-and-out Leafs who finished the regular 70-game schedule in third place, well behind the league champion Wings. They tried hard, battled all the way but were out-classed.

The Wings' first two goals were scored when the Leafs were shorthanded but even at that they were the far-superior club with plenty of depth from the goal out to the 16th man.

Ted Lindsay got his second of the series at 4:35 on an assist from Vic Stasiuk while the Leafs' Howie Meeker was serving a cross-checking penalty. Tony (The Pest) Leswick sent them ahead to stay at 9:43 while defenseman Gus Mortson sat out an interference penalty.

Nifty Play

Then Gordie Howe, one of Leafs' great right-wingers, set up lineman Sid Abel for probably the niftiest goal of the series. Howe got the puck at the Toronto blue-line and bull-dozed his way down the boards with Leaf defenseman Fernie Flamm practically crawling up his back.

same motion passed to Abel in the clear. The veteran center's sliding shot had goalkeeper Al Rollins beaten all the way.

With that cushion the Wings dropped back and allowed the Leafs to take the offensive. A close-checking forward wall and a hard-hitting defense held off the Leafs who tested goalkeeper Terry Sawchuk with 39 drives during the night, 12 of them in the last period.

Tigers End Grapefruit Play With 5-0 Defeat

last two innings and gave up only two singles.

Don Kolloway, who now appears to be the Tigers' regular first baseman against left-handers, and third baseman George Kell each collected two hits.

In the first inning, singles by Kell and Kolloway went to waste when Vic Wertz fled out and Hoot Evers forced Kolloway. Double plays pulled Chambers out of trouble in the third and fifth innings when the Tigers showed some sign of life.

Solly Hemus, batting .500 this spring, led the Cardinals' eight hit attack with two singles and a triple.

But the Tiger pitchers had Stan Musial, the National League batting champ, under control. Musial drew a walk but went hitless. He slammed one ball over the right field fence but it was foul by 10 feet.

Three Boys Admit Office Break-In

Three Gladstone boys, nine to 13 years of age, have been referred to Delta county juvenile court after confessing they broke into the Hupy Insurance office, 906 Delta Ave., on Monday night. Gladstone city police, assisted by State Police, solved the case and questioned the boys yesterday afternoon. Nothing had been taken although an attempt had been made to open the office safe.

This means he will oppose Rex Stowe Sr., a duly nominated candidate for the office.

This brings seven into the race for the three positions on the city commission to be filled at the annual city election next Monday, April 7.

Ripple Soles Make High Stepping Easy

BOUNCY—Army boot and lady's walking shoe with new ripple soles.

AP Newsfeatures

LOS ANGELES—Two footwear experts don't claim to have developed seven-league boots but they will help the public take a longer step.

Nathan Hatch, a retired orthopedic shoe specialist, and Dr. Laurence E. Morehouse, research professor in physiology, stumbled across what they call "ripple soles" while searching for a shoe to cut down the hazards of broken legs and ankles among paratroopers.

Cuts Shock

The new sole, according to its inventors, cuts the shock of legs and spine about 40 per cent, gives the walker a longer stride and reduces foot fatigue and back ache.

After testing shoes with metal springs attached, which gave an undesirable pogo-stick effect, the two men tried anchoring a sole of composition rubber in a wrinkled or corrugated manner on the sole of an Army boot.

Assistants took jump tests and reported only average results with the new ripple soles. However, while walking about, they were surprised as the ripples moved the foot forward at each step. It gave a "walking on air" feeling.

Chance Discovery

Hatch and Morehouse saw possibilities in the chance discovery. They took slow-motion pictures which showed the rippled sole flatten at each step and force the foot ahead. It absorbed shock, stored energy and then aided in lifting the foot for the next step.

The pair then decided to postpone the paratrooper tests and concentrate on developing ripple soles. The inventors believe ripple soles will prove a blessing for postmen and policemen and others who spend most of the day on their feet.

"I think the ripple sole will find a place in athletic events too," said Hatch. "At least it will relieve the strain on millions of pairs of feet."

Lots Of Jobs Open In Australia Now

MELBOURNE, Australia—(AP)—Vacant jobs in Australia are fewer today, but there is still plenty of employment.

Secretary H. A. Bland, of the Labor and National Service Department, said the number of vacant jobs in this Dominion fell from 140,000 to 100,000 between August, 1951, and last month.

Bland told newsmen the demand for workers in many industries is still in excess of supply. However, there has been a falling off of employment in the clothing, footwear, textile and radio industries, he said.
